LOUISBURG

FEMALE COLLEGE.

REV. T. M. JONES, A. M., Pres't and Proprietor.

THE EXERCISES OF THIS INSTITUTION will begin on the second Wednesday in January, 1866.

Louisburg is a village seldom surpassed for health, intelligence, refinement and morality. It is in Franklin County, nine miles from Franklinton, on the R. and Gaston Railroad. Between these points there is a daily stage line, connecting with trains going North and South.

The College building, located in a beautiful grove, on an elevated site, is large, commodious and well ventilated. It will be thoroughly renovated and fitted up with neat furniture and fire places in the dormitories. It is our purpose to establish for young ladies a school of the highest grade, affording superior facilities for the acquisition of a thorough and accomplished education.

With the advantages of a good library, a well selected Chemical and Philosophical apparatus, a competent Faculty, and large experience in connection with the Greensboro Female College, we hope, by a faithful discharge of duty, to merit a liberal share of patronage. Boarding pupils will live as members of the President's family. Terms reasonable, and will be made known in due time. Those desiring to send their daughters, will please address me, for the present, at Greensboro,' N. C., and circulars will be sent.

IS LIKED BY ALL IN PREFERENCE TO ANY in market for ten reasons:

1. Because it invariably turns gray hair to its original color in the short space of four weeks.
2. Because it is clean and nice, and will not stain the skin.
3. Because it removes all Dandruff and Scurf, and is as harmless as water.
4. Because thousands are using it, and every body should.
5. Because it is peculiarly adapted to all classes, old and young.
6. Because it is purely vegetable—not a dye.
7. Because it kills hair eaters, and makes the hair luxuriant and soft.
8. Because it cures all humors and diseases of the scalp.
9. Because it arrests and prevents the hair from falling.
10. Because it is no humbug, but an honest article, as multitudes can testify; and if it don't prove as recommended, the money will be refunded.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E PELL, Editor.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1865.

THE NATIONAL UNION TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR,

Jonathan Worth, Esq.

OF RANDOLPH.

THE PEOPLE must be trusted with their Government, and if trusted, my opinion is that they will act in good faith, and restore their former constitutional relations with all the States composing the Union.—Andrew Johnson's Letter to Gov. Sharkey, of Mississippi.

THE NATIONAL UNION PARTY.

We acknowledge His Excellency, ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States of America, to be the head and leader of the great National Union party. His reconstruction policy is at present the basis of that party, and we stand firmly upon it. This is the only party we acknowledge in this State.

The True Issue.

We call upon the press and people of North Carolina to hold the Standard and "strait sect" men in this State, to the true issue involved in the contest now pending in the election on the 9th day of November next, for Governor, members of Congress and members of the Legislature.—We beg them not to allow the Standard or any one else to turn their minds from the true issue.

The question is not, simply, whether this or that man shall be the next Civil Governor of the State, or who shall be the representatives of the people of the State in Congress, or in the Legislature, or the United States Senators, or the Judges of the Supreme Court or the Judges of the Superior Court. All these matters are certainly involved in the contest it is true, but they are not the great and real issue.—The real issue is, shall President Johnson's liberal policy prevail in this State, or shall the policy of the "strait sect" men prevail. The two policies are essentially different—the one is catholic, liberal and magnanimous, looking to the early restoration and recuperation of the South, the other partizan, narrow, and ruinous.

The question does not in any sense involve or revive any of the differences formerly in conflict between the old Democratic or Whig parties. There is neither a Whig or Democratic party in the South—nor is there a Secession or Conservative party—nor are any of the differences of these two parties involved in this contest. All these parties as well as the principles or measures which formerly controlled them, are quashed by President Johnson's policy. His policy ignores all the old parties, and proposes to merge the entire South into one great conservative Union party, regardless of the old distinctions of Whig and Democrat, or Secession and Conservative. The policy of the "strait sect" men is to keep up and perpetuate former issues, in order to form a new party in North Carolina, which shall control the destiny of the State. In Tennessee the same faction, the "strait sect" men have made more rapid advances and are bolder than in North Carolina. Their reign in Tennessee is one of terror. They endorse President Johnson, when in the excitement and anguish of the moment of Mr. Lincoln's assassination, he said "treason and the traitors must be punished," but they ignore and scout President Johnson's liberal reconstruction policy since announciated, altogether. In fact, they are ready, evidently, to affiliate with the Northern radicals, and will, we predict, be the opposers of President Johnson in the next Presidential election. These Tennessee "strait sect" men are bitter, and uncompromising. They have disfranchised one half the people of the State—advocate confiscation and the most illiberal, persecuting course towards those Tennesseeans who took an active part in the revolution.

Now have these "strait sect" men in Tennessee, any sympathisers in this State? Do not the North Carolina "strait sect" men sympathize with them? What has prevented in North Carolina, the scenes which have occurred in Tennessee, but the fact that the "strait sect" men have been in so lean a minority that they could not accomplish it?

President Johnson's policy is this: the restoration of the South and the reconstruction of the States must be effected as soon as possible, "without unnecessary delay." Secondly, that none but loyal men shall be active in the restoration. But whom does he call loyal? We understand President Johnson distinctly to take the position, that every man in the State, or in the South, he esteems, recognizes and treats as a loyal man, who subscribes to the oath, who was either included in his general amnesty, or who has been since specially pardoned by him. Every such man he regards as a citizen and entitled to the privileges of citizenship, so long as he acts in good faith and with fidelity to the government. Is not this a correct exposition of President Johnson's policy? If so, we insist upon it that that is not the policy of the "strait sect" men in this State.

First, the "strait sect" men have been opposed to an early restoration. They have counseled a most tedious process in the work of reconstruction, which has brought the State Convention and our State elections almost upon the heels of Congress. President Johnson admired and endorsed the energetic action of Gov. Perry in South Carolina and Gov. Sharky in Mississippi, but the "strait sect" men in North Carolina, have favored a more dilatory course.

Again, they have applied new tests of loyalty to those required by President Johnson. In the appointment of magistrates, of whom there were in all the counties, perhaps, three times as many as was necessary for the business, the President's requistion of taking the oath in order to their pardon—in order to become loyal men, was not sufficient. The question was, not who among those already magistrates, and whom the President declares are loyal if they will take the oath, are most "honest and capable," but who are the "strait sect" Union men or likely to become so? The same policy as far as possible, has been pursued toward the Banks, the Rail Roads, the Judges of the Courts, &c. The impression prevails that the same policy is carried out in regard to the petitions for pardon in this State. The idea is, that the "strait sect" men alone, can be allowed to take part in public affairs, and that they have the right to the early benefits of Executive clemency. The positions of the Standard for the last three months fully justify this idea, and sustain this course of action.

People of North Carolina, here is the true issue before you, so far as we understand it.—Whether or not the liberal policy of President Johnson shall prevail in this State or the policy of the "strait sect" men. Jonathan Worth is opposed to the policy of the "straitest sect." He endorses out and out, the liberal policy of the President, and this is the ground upon which his friends present his claims to your support.

Why this Difference.

When Mississippi passed her ordinance declaring the ordinance of secession null and void, and the ordinance declaring slavery abolished, Gov. Sharkey telegraphed directly to the President the facts, and immediately the President responded in the most flattering and gratifying manner. When Gov. Perry informed the President of the similar action of South Carolina, a response came directly from the President, expressing the highest satisfaction.

But when the North Carolina Convention exceeded all the rest in the character of its action—ignoring entirely the idea that the ordinance of secession had ever been in force in North Carolina, and passed the ordinance abolishing slavery unanimously, when the President was informed of the action, the following telegram is returned:

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Raleigh, October, 9, 1865.

To Hon. Edwin G. Reade,
President of the Convention:

SIR: I have received the following dispatch from Dr. R. J. Powell, the agent of the State, in Washington:

"WASHINGTON, Oct. 7th, 1865.

The President is very much gratified with the action of the Convention. I write this in his office, and he tells me to say the Convention has done what is right, and that such action adds greatly to our strength here."

Very respectfully,
W. W. HOLDEN,
Provisional Governor.

There may be nothing remarkable in the fact that the President calls upon Dr. Powell to reply instead of replying himself, but the difference in the action looks strangely.

Our people know the President, but they do not know Dr. Powell. But few knew before that the State had an Agent at Washington.—And we have heard the inquiry started, who is Dr. Powell? What is his business? What is his salary, and who pays him? Have the other Southern States Agents at Washington? Many can see no necessity for such an Agent, but as we know nothing further than has already been made public in regard to Dr. Powell, we cannot answer these interrogatories.

The Wilmington Journal and its correspondents express a decided preference for Gov. Graham for the next Governor of the State.—There is no man in North Carolina whom we would support more gladly than Gov. Graham for any position. If any one had believed that Gov. Graham would have allowed the use of his name for that position, no one would have more readily urged his claims than Jonathan Worth, Esq.—But we are sure that Gov. Graham would prefer Mr. Worth in that position to himself. We are happy to know that Mr. Worth enjoys the entire confidence of every man in the State who knows him. As an honest, straight forward, reliable man, North Carolina can boast of no better than Mr. Worth. The financial condition of the State, requires a man of his financial ability especially, and as a statesman he has few superiors among us.

The Standard is adopting the game it did last year, of enumerating a number of leading men in the State as supporters of Gov. Holden. The Standard failed then in its calculations, and it will fail again. We are quite sure it is not authorized to name Judge Reade and Judge Gilliam among the supporters of the Governor, in the sense of having pledged their votes for him at the next election. They are both gentlemen of great reticence, and moreover they are both of opinion that as Judges, they should not be lugged into the canvass. The same may be said of Gen. Dockery, B. F. Moore and D. L. Russell, who though not unfriendly to the Governor, have not we judge pledged their votes to him.

The Standard is disturbed at the publication at the Sentinel office of something which it considers very offensive. We have not read the document alluded to, the proof sheet and entire preparation of it, having been attended to by persons not connected with the Sentinel.

The Standard has several times asserted that the Sentinel has assailed Gov. Holden. We have no recollection of a single remark of ours which can be twisted into anything like it. We have certainly designed no such thing.

SPEECH OF

JUDGE MANLY OF CRAVEN,

Upon the ordinance to annul the ordinance of secession.

I am opposed, Mr. President, to the ordinance in the form in which the committee have thought proper to present it to us. 1st. Because the language employed is unusual; 2nd, because it is not characterized by the respect due from one Convention of the people to another; and 3rd, because it is not necessary in this form to accomplish our object, the restoration of Federal re at one.

The novelty in its form deemed objectionable is, that it is judicial as well as legislative. It not only declares the ordinance of 1861 null, which is admitted to be in accordance with our legislative functions, but passes over into the field of the courts of law, and declars that it always was null. While I make now no question of power in the Convention to do this, it is certainly unusual, if not an unprecedented occurrence, and it may therefore be fairly argued that it is improper. Conventions of the people and legislative assemblies are bodies of similar character, their province is generally to make laws not to expound them. They differ only in the extent of their powers—the one acting under fundamental laws and subserviently to them, the other acting under no such restriant, but with liberty to establish, modify or annul fundamental law. Both are legislative in their nature, differing only in the scope of their powers. To depart from this nature and to exercise judicial functions, is equally a usurpation in both. I protest, Mr. President, against any such commingling of different departments of our government. It is a mixture which the constitution expressly forbids. Invasion by one department of another's province, invites retallation, and must lead ultimately to complete confusion, and to great insecurity of legal rights.

The Convention of 1861 was called, after the subject was twice before the people, and had undergone the fullest reflection and discussion. It was called for a specific object. It is uncandid in us now to say, that we did not know what was to be done in that Convention, and that we were put into a position of hostility to the government of the United States without our privity or consent. We did know,—we accepted the war guage and entered upon our first campaigns with enthusiasm. I do not say that the people by any vote previous to the ordinance of 1861, or by their acceptance of its consequences, approved the political theorem of secession. But what I do say is, that they expected and desired that the Convention in some form, would declare the independence of the State of the General Government. This is what the Convention did; this is what it was expected to do, and this is what the people accepted as a fulfillment of their duty. We make no point now as to whether secession is inherent in our system of government as a State right. We do not suppose that a majority concurred on the ordinance of 1861 as a right under the constitution. But nevertheless that they did concur in it unanimously as a declaration of independence,—that they did conclude that emergencies had arisen which justified such declaration, is absolutely certain. How can we say then that an ordinance passed under such circumstances, by a Convention of the people was in its origin and inception of no effect. Can this be done, I respectfully submit with a proper appreciation of our own fallibility or a proper respect for the judgment of those who have gone before us? The judgment of men, who being representatives of the same people with ourselves, must be supposed to be equally intelligent, honest and patriotic. The Convention of 1861 thought this ordinance was something—that it established an entity of some sort. Is it entirely respectful to say that in this they were mistaken, and that their work was mere words without effect?

The fortunes of war have put an end to the work inaugurated by the ordinance. The people have reversed their purpose as indicated by it, and have sent us here for the purpose of declaring this reversal. This is all. It would be a gross disrespect in my judgment to stultify them by declaring that their ordinance of 1861 never had force or significance. It is hardly necessary to remind this honorable body that the Convention of 1861 was as much a Convention of the people as we are.

If, then, the form of this ordinance be unusual and discourteous, involving self-discredit, what necessity is there for it? None whatever. The substitute offered by the delegate from Camden, accomplishes the object of annulling the ordinance, by using the customary terms, and leaves it to the courts of law to settle what force and effect it has at any time had. This is as it should be, and it ought to be acceptable to all. It is a mistaken idea to suppose that the word "repeal" in the substitute, implies any belief on our part that the ordinance is or was constitutional. It is the language uniformly used in abrogating laws, whether they are obnoxious on account of their unconstitutionality or inexpediency. Why then, I ask again, should we insist upon the ordinance in the objectionable form reported by the committee, when our object can be accomplished by a form (that of the substitute) in which all can concur—a form which will consist better, as I conceive, with the dignity of our history, with a proper self-esteem on the part of the State, and be more in accordance with our acknowledged character for sincerity and truthfulness in all we do.

But, Mr. President, I have another objection to the reported ordinance of a still graver character. It asserts a legal proposition that is not true. It cannot be maintained upon any theory of government, whether monarchical or democratic, that the act of a people, such as was this ordinance, followed by the consequences which ensued, was null and void always; that is to say had at no time force or effect. Whatever may be said of it as a constitutional movement, it was certainly a declaration of independence maintained through a bloody war of four years. Success in such case would have made right, failure makes wrong. This is the American maxim, and we cannot abandon it without giving up the fundamental principle upon which our American republics are based.

All writers upon public law make a distinction between a government de facto, and a government de jure, and hold the engagements of the former may be enforced even after rightful authority is restored. That the government of the Confederacy was a government of the former class, is attested by its history—by the facts. Possessing organic structure, it raised revenue, it raised armies and fought through a gigantic war of four years' duration. It is attested further by the concurrent acknowledgments of the European governments who recognized us as a belligerent power. Shall we be less indulgent to ourselves than the nations of Europe were?

The same may be said of the government of the State. If it was not a government de jure, it was at any rate a government de facto—a thing of life, animation and vigor. How then can it be said that the ordinance which created this thing is null and void and was always so?

Mr. President, a word or two of personal matter will conclude what I have to say. It should not be supposed from the course of my argument that I am against a Union under the government of the United States; such a supposition will do me great injustice. It is true, I approved the passage of the ordinance we are about to annul. I sympathised heartily with my State and the affiliated States of the Confederacy in the struggle which ensued. There was no disaster to the cause which did not wring my heart, and no triumph in which my feelings did not fully participate. Yet when the cause was lost and our armies disbanded, in common with the great body of my fellow citizens, I submitted to results; took in good faith the prescribed oath of amnesty, and am yielding a willing obedience to the common government. I should not have been here representing the ancient, enlightened and patriotic community of Craven but for this and but for a known desire in me to restore our union with the general government honorably, safely and speedily.

I throw no obstacle in the way unless constrained by a clear sense of right. For one, I design to vote for the ordinance to be passed, if possible, because I heartily concur in the main object it is intended to accomplish. I trust therefore, the Convention will put it in such a form as to remove impediments and secure a unanimous vote. Unanimity is not only desirable here because in it is strength and comeliness, but it is especially desirable with the people when they come to vote on it. If by the form of the ordinance you produce diversity of opinion here, there will probably be diversity there. This should be avoided.

Mr. President we are in a crisis of momentous importance. Our conduct in it is not temporary interest, but must remain a mark in history to be turned about, scanned and criticized. I trust this page in our history will be made such as not only to bear criticism, but be a source of satisfaction and pride to those who shall come after us.

For the Sentinel.

What does it Mean?

Mr. Editor:—The writer of this article is no politician, has no political influence, seeks no office, and intends to make no sort of exertion for or against any of the present aspirants to popular favor: but he is a citizen of North Carolina and of the United States, as deeply interested as any one in the future of his country. With this explanation he comes to the point.

Does the act of voting imply a choice? nay, is it not essentially an expression of the voter's choice? It is generally so understood. What then do those threatening intimations, which we see in some of the papers, mean? By electing one man we are told, we will get into the Union, (the Union which our Convention declares we have never been out of:) by electing another man we shall stay out of the Union.—How is this? is one of these Candidates for restoring us to the Union, and the other opposed to it? Certainly not. Each of them—every body wants to get back into the Union. Unquestionably it is implied that the President will keep us out unless we elect one of the Candidates—his supposed favorite! Suppose him elected under these circumstances, whose choice will be? —Why, the President's. The President has the right to appoint a Provisional Governor: he is the President's Agent. If he wants to continue a Provisional Government, let him appoint a new, or re appoint the old Governor: but if the people are to elect their Governor, he ought to be their choice.

If this threat is an empty sound—a mere electioneering trick, it is an insult to the intelligence of the people; if it is not—if it declares the truth, it is an insult to their manhood. The man who would vote under the dictation of another, is no more competent to be an elector than a horse or a locomotive. Moreover if the President is a Patriot and Statesman, as his course hitherto indicates him to be, the intimation referred to is a libel and an insult upon him also. He has imposed no such condition precedent to our restoration.

The great Commentator on the Constitution exhorts us to remember that this is a government of laws, not of men. This great fundamental doctrine was lost sight of or discredited, before we were plunged into the late disastrous war. The people were told, for years before it, from the press and from the stump, that upon the election of one man or the defeat of another the very existence of the Republic depended.—They were educated to believe in the monstrous heresy that the man was the Government! And the progress of this most mischievous doctrine culminated in the fatal belief that the election of a President—although according to the forms of the Constitution—was a just and sufficient cause for a bloody revolution. This opinion was without doubt the starting point and the foundation stone of the war which has just ended; let the people remember this, and frown down the man or the party who shall attempt to revive it.

Both the candidates for Governor have all the qualifications required by law or by the President's proclamations for the office; let the freemen of North Carolina go to the polls and cast their votes for him they prefer, and pay no regard to the threats and dictation of any body.

TACITUS.

The Standard enumerates a long list of old Whigs (17) and only three Democrats, whom the Governor has appointed to office, to prove that he is not governed by partizan feelings. The Governor has been for some time courting the Whigs, and as usual he has been successful with some of them. The Democrats come in for a small share. Most of the appointees, the Standard says voted for Gov. Vance. Yes, and some of them, perhaps, will do the same thing over, one of these days. But we ask how many of either Whigs or Democrats, would have been appointed, if they had not been supposed to sympathise with the "straitest sect?" That is the true issue, neighbor. Isn't it?

We warn the people to be on their guard against the foul libels of the enemies of the Provisional Governor. The Convention has thanked him for his efforts to restore the State to peace and harmony, by a unanimous vote. Would the members thank a Governor, whom they believed to be actuated by wicked and malicious motives? —Raleigh Standard.

The above is entirely gratuitous. We doubt if any one is disposed to attach base motives to the Governor. We have heard no one attribute anything of the sort. The world is pretty much alike—every body is for himself, and no one can certainly attribute wicked and malicious motives to any one, simply because one loves himself more than he does other people.

Ordinances and Resolutions passed by the North Carolina State Convention, First Session 1865.

In relation to the deposit and publication of the Ordinances and Resolutions of the Convention:

Be it ordained by the delegates of the people of the State of North Carolina, in Convention assembled, That the Secretary of this Convention deposit in the office of the Secretary of State for safe keeping all the Ordinances and Resolutions passed by the Convention having the force and effect of laws: and the Secretary of the Convention shall cause the same to be published in three newspapers published in the City of Raleigh; and he is hereby authorized to contract for such publication at reasonable rates; the expense thereof shall be paid as other public printing and it shall be sufficient for him to furnish one certified copy only (for which he shall be paid the same fee as is now allowed to the Secretary of State for certifying the acts of the General Assembly) to one of the newspapers, and a printed copy to the others.

[Ratified in Convention, this seventeenth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five.]

EDWIN G. READE, President.

JAMES H. MOORE, Secretary of the Convention.
R. C. BADGER, Assistant Secretary.

AN ORDINANCE

To divide North Carolina into seven Congressional Districts:

SECTION 1. Be it ordained by the people of North Carolina in Convention assembled, and it is hereby ordained by the authority of the same, That for the purpose of electing representatives in the Congress of the United States, the State shall be divided into seven districts, as follows: The first district shall be composed of the counties of Currituck, Camden, Pasquotank, Perquimons, Gates, Chowan, Hertford, Northampton, Halifax, Martin, Bertie, Washington, Tyrrel, Hyde, and Beaufort: The second district of the counties of Pitt, Craven, Jones, Lenoir, Wayne, Green, Edgecombe, Wilson, Onslow, Carteret, Duplin, and New Hanover; The third district of the counties of Brunswick, Columbus, Bladen, Sampson, Cumberland, Robeson, Richmond, Harnett, Moore, Montgomery, Anson and Stanly; The fourth district of the counties, of Wake, Franklin, Warren, Granville, Orange, Nash, Johnston and Chatham; The fifth district of the counties of Alamance, Randolph, Guilford, Rockingham, Davidson, Forsythe, Stokes, Surry, Person, and Caswell; The sixth district of the counties of Rowan, Cabarrus, Union, Mecklenburg, Gaston, Lincoln, Catawba, Iredell, Davie, Yadkin, Wilkes and Alexander; The seventh district of the counties of Ashe, Alleghany, Watauga, Yancey, Mitchell, McDowell, Caldwell, Rutherford, Cleaveland, Polk, Henderson, Transylvania, Buncombe, Madison, Haywood, Jackson, Macon, Cherokee and Clay, each of which Districts, shall be entitled to elect one Representative, in the Congress of the United States.

SECTION 2. The election for Representatives in Congress, shall be held and conducted in every respect, in conformity with the rules regulations and restrictions, as set forth and prescribed, in the Sixty-Ninth Capter of the Revised Code except that the Polls shall be compared in the first district at the Court House in the county of Chowan, in the second district at the Court House in the County of Lenoir, in the third district at the Court House in the County of Cumberland, in the fourth district at the Court House in the county of Wake; in the fifth district at the Court House in the county of Guilford; in the sixth district, at the Court House in the County of Iredell; in the seventh district at the Court House in the county of Buncombe. AN ORDINANCE

Declaring null and void the ordinance of May 20th, eighteen hundred and sixty-one:

Be it declared and ordained by the delegates of the good people of North Carolina, in Convention assembled, and it is hereby declared and ordained, That the ordinance of the Convention of the State of North Carolina, ratified on the twenty-first day of November, seventeen hundred and eighty-nine, which adopted and ratified the Constitution of the United States, and also all acts and parts of acts of the General Assembly, ratifying and adopting amendments to the said Constitution, are now and at all times since the adoption and ratification thereof, have been in full force and effect; notwithstanding the supposed ordinance of the twentieth day of May, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, declaring that the same be repealed, rescinded and abrogated; and the said supposed ordinance is now and at all times hath been null and void. [Ratified in Convention, this seventh day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one.]

EDWIN G. READE, President.

JAS. H. MOORE, Secretary of the Convention.
R. C. BADGER, Assistant Secretary.

AN ORDINANCE

For the election of Clerks and Sheriffs.

Be it ordained by the good people of North Carolina, in Convention assembled, and it is hereby ordained by authority of the same, That an election be held for Sheriffs and county and Superior Court Clerks on the same day and at the same time and places, that the election for members of the General Assembly shall take place, and in the same manner as heretofore prescribed for the election of such officers Provided, that all persons qualified to vote for members of the House of Commons shall be qualified to vote for these officers.

SEC. 2. Be it further ordained, That said officers shall have all the qualifications heretofore required.

SEC. 3. Be it further ordained, That they shall enter on the duties of their office as soon as the Provisional Government expires, and hold said offices until further provided for by the General Assembly. (Read three times and ratified in Convention the 12th day of October, A. D., 1865.)

E. G. READE, President.

JAS. H. MOORE, Secretary of the Convention.
R. C. BADGER, Assistant Secretary.

AN ORDINANCE

Submitting to the qualified voters of the State, the ratification or rejection of certain ordinances:

Be it ordained by the delegates of the people of North Carolina, and it is hereby ordained by the authority of the same, That on the second Thursday of November next, shall be submitted to the voters of the State qualified to vote for members of the House of Commons, for their ratification or rejection, the Ordinance passed by this Convention, entitled "an Ordinance declaring null and void the Ordinance of May the 20th 1861," and such persons as shall favor the ratification shall vote a ticket with the words, "Anti-Secession Ordinance. Ratified," and those opposed shall vote a ticket in the words, "Anti-Secession Ordinance. Rejected." Also at the same time shall be submitted for their ratification or rejection an Ordinance passed by the Convention, entitled "an Ordinance prohibiting slavery in the State of North Carolina" and those who favor a ratification of the same shall vote a ticket with the words, "Anti-Slavery Ordinance, Ratified." and those opposed shall vote a ticket with the words, "Anti-Slavery Ordinance, Rejected."

Be it further ordained, That the Sheriff or other Officers who may ascertain the result of the polls in each County, shall transmit the same to the Provisional Governor, who is hereby empowered and requested to cause the number of votes each way to be ascertained and proclaimed through as many as three newspapers published in different parts of the State.

Be it further ordained, That, if ratified, thenceforth said Ordinance shall be the laws of the land and that abolishing slavery shall become a part of the Constitution of the State (Read three times and ratified in Convention, October 17, A. D., 1865.)

EDWIN G. READE, President.

JAS. H MOORE, Secretary of the Convention.
R. C. BADGER, Assistant Secretary.

AN ORDINANCE

To protect the owners of property and other purposes.

Be it it ordained by the delegates of the people of North Carolina, in Convention now assembled and it is hereby ordained, That the persons appointed by the Provisional Governor, Judges of the Courts of Oyer and Terminer, are hereby invested with power to exercise severally at their chambers, all such powers and authorities as by the laws of the State are conferred on the Judges of the Superior Courts of law and equity at chambers, and may issue writs of injuction, sequestration, ne exeat and capias, under the rules and regulations prescribed in chapter thirty-two of the Revised Code, for the purpose of protecting and securing against loss and damage the owner of any kind of estate, real, personal or mixed, or the creditor of any person whatever; and to this end may make all necessary rules, orders and decrees; for disobedience whereof the party offending may be attached for contempt.

Be it further ordained, That said Judges may depute any person to execute the process issued by them, and may appoint a clerk when necessary — They may prescribe in each case, the time within which the process issued by them shall be served and the defendant shall appear.

Be it further ordained, That when any defendant shall be enjoined or restrained, unless in case of irreparable injury, and such defendant will enter into bond with ample security payable to the plaintiff in double the amount of the sworn value of the property, conditioned that if said property or any part thereof should be the property of the plaintiff, the defendant will pay to the plaintiff the value thereof with twenty-five per cent. added thereto and interest on the amount and all the costs incurred by him, the property may in the discretion of the Court, be delivered to said defendant, and the bond to the plaintiff, who may bring suit thereon: Provided, always, if the defendant should not appear and execute such bond, it shall nevertheless be in the power of the Court to make all necessary decrees, rules and orders for preserving the property, or its value for the rightful party, by sale and keeping the proceeds or otherwise, to abide the final decree.

Be it further ordained, That the said Judges may issue process for the arrest of persons violating the criminal law, and may grant writs of habeas corpus and take bail; and the recognizances shall be returned to the proper Courts: they may also take and certify the probate of deeds and the privy examinations of femes covert in the manner prescribed by law.

Be it further ordained, That the General Assembly shall make suitable compensation to said Judges for the services which they may render under this ordinance, and all such persons as may be employed by them in the discharge of the duties hereby imposed on them.

Be it further ordained, That so soon as the Superior Courts shall be restored the duties herein prescribed for the Judges aforesaid shall cease and the cases before them shall be tranferred by them into the Courts of Equity of the proper Counties, and the latter Courts shall proceed with them as if the said proceedings had been authorized and had been begun in said Courts.

For the Sentinel.

MR. EDITOR:—It is a strange freak but invented with great skill and sagacity by the anti-Worth men, that President Johnson will consider it a slur and a personal retort if the good people of North Carolina do not elect the Provisional Governor as their civil Governor.

If it is our duty in that respect to elect him in the coming election, it will be our imperative duty to elect him as long as he can serve in all subsequent elections; and afterwards it must follow on down by hereditary descent. Upon that very same principle the Gubernatorial seat of North Carolina is as much descendible to the heirs of Gov. Holden, in a logical sense, as his present occupancy entitles him to election in November. If no one in North Carolina now will do for civil Governor but Gov. H., it certainly holds good that no one else will do two, four, or six years hence: and if President Johnson considers it a stigma upon his judgment in making a selection for Provisional Governor, not to elect him now, upon the same grounds he would become insulted ten years from now upon a similar cause. In haste, FESTULUS.

Mr. Worth and Congress.

A distinguished citizen of another county, exhibited here, a few days ago, a long letter from a prominent and influential official in Washington city. This letter holds out one of the most flattering inducements to the people of the State to vote for such a man as Mr Worth for Governor; and according to it, Mr Worth will be a tower of strength to our cause, when our representatives knock at the door of the Federal Congress. The letter was private not intended for publication, but the names of the writer and of the statesman to whom addressed, would of themselves be guarantees of its reliable character. There is, perhaps, no name in North Carolina that will operate so favorably on the next Congress as that of Jonathan Worth, of unsullied record.—Greensboro' Patriot.

Governor Holden, of North Carolina, who voted in the State Convention of '61 for the Ordinance of Secession, was the first the other day to announce through the telegraph to the country that North Carolina's present Convention had declared that ordinance to have been null and void ab initio and never to have had any effect.—Rich. Times.

DIED,

Yesterday, in this City, THOMAS CUNINGGIM BRANSON, youngest child of Rev. L. and Edith Branson.

The funeral services will take place at the residence this morning at 10 o'clock. The friends are invited to attend

SALE OF VALUABLE PROPERTY.

ON TUESDAY, THE 7TH DAY OF NOVEMBER next I will sell to the highest bidder, (on the premises) Maj. Lewis' Dunn Plantation, containing seven hundred and eighty acres of valuable Pine Swamp Land. One hundred acres of the latter is well framed and in a fine state of cultivation. This farm is situated on the Raleigh and Louisburg Road 18 miles from the former and 13 from the latter place. Purchasers seldom meet with such inducements as are here offered. Pine timber can be delivered on the R. & G. R. R 7 miles from the premises. Also the crop of Corn and Fodder, Horses, Mules Hogs and Cattle, consisting of Beeves, Milch Cows, and Work Oxen Dump and Ox Carts, Wagons and other Agricultural implements too tedious to mention. Terms made known on the day of sale.

J. ROBT. JEFFREYS,
Agent for Maj. A. M. Lewis.

Oct. 23-66-2w.

North Carolina Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

AT A MEETING OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE Company on the 27th of September, an assessment of 15 per cent. was levied on all premium Notes in the office of the Company at the time the losses occurred, to be paid in three installments, viz: six, nine and twelve months from 1st October, 1865.

The amount of premium Notes on hand, $220,000
" " Allowed Losses, 10,000
" " Unsettled do. 7,500

(There are some losses not yet reported, the amount of which, of course, cannot now be stated.)

The assessment may appear to be disproportionate to the amount of the losses; but the Directors, taking into consideration the changes in property by sale, without transfer of policies, by destruction during the war, &c., &c. do not think that more will be raised by it than will be needed to meet the actual wants of the Company.

There will be, necessarily some delay in the payment of the losses. It is hoped however, that there will be no complaint on this account: especially when it is recollected that payment in some cases was tendered in Confederate currency and refused.

The Company is prepared to take risks as in former times, and on as favorable terms. Address all letters to the Secretary. T. H. SELBY, Pres't.

HANDEL S. SMITH, Secretary.

PLANTATION FOR RENT.

THE SUBSCRIBER, HAVING ENGAGED IN another business, wishes to rent out his plantation for the ensuing year. He does not want more than eight, nor less than six hands worked upon it. For this number of hands, the opportunity for making a crop is unusually fine. The chance for

COTTON AND CORN,

is very good, and for

TOBACCO AND OATS,

superior. There are seventy thousand tobacco hills which may be put in, that will make good tobacco without manure, and there is plenty of the very best tobacco land that may be cleared. The location is in a very fine neighborhood, three miles from Macon Depot on the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road, and is one of the most healthy and delightful in the County. The residence contains six rooms, and there are all the necessary outhouses and a good orchard. He will sell everything necessary to carry on the farm—stock, crop, team, plantation implements, &c., &c. Address, or call upon Watson's New Photograph Gallery.

THE SUBSCRIBER TAKES THIS METHOD OF informing the citizens of North Carolina, that he has recently taken, renovated and refitted the Gallery formerly occupied by E. Hunt, where he is prepared to make all kinds of pictures in his line, from the smallest miniature to a life size Portrait in oil. None shall have an excuse for sending work in his line out of the State to be done. A call is solicited. J. W. WATSON.
